TEN CONTESTS BOOKED FOR DEBATE SQUAD

Seven Debates to Be Held in College Chapel

FIRST ON NOV. 23

Contest with British Then; Season Opens Away at Mt. Holyoke

Opening with a debate at Mount Holyoke College on November 11, the 1933 debate schedule has been tentatively decided upon by Prof. Calvin L. Lewis and Walter J. Moore, '34, coach and manager, respectively, of the debating squad.

The schedule calls for ten intercollegiate contests, and will as usual contain the international debate, this year against a team of students from Great Britain, which will be held on the 23rd of November in the College Chapel. The next debate also occurs at Clinton, with Elmira College on December 8, and will be followed by St. Lawrence, a week later, and also in the Chapel.

The program for next semester is only tentative as yet, since definite dates have not been decided upon. Rollins College, of Georgia, will be met at Hamilton either in January or February, and the annual debate with Wells College, of Aurora, N. Y., is next on the schedule. Union College of Schenectady, another debate held every year, will visit Hamilton on the 23rd of March.

Exclusive of Mount Holyoke, the only contests away from home are the next two, with Lafayette and Dartmouth. Lafayette will be met at Easton, Pa., on the first of March, and, a few weeks following, a team will journey to Hanover, N. H., for the Dartmouth debate. A contest with Albany State Teachers College will close the season.

Four questions, as approved by the Intercollegiate Debate Council, will be used in all the debates excepting with the English team and Mount Holyoke. They are:

Resolved, That the states of the United States which desire to permit sale of spiritous liquors after the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment adopt the Pratt Anderson Plan.

Resolved, That the United States Navy be built to the full treaty limit.

Resolved, That the extension of government control over business since March 4th last should not be made permanent.

Resolved, That the United States should recognize the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics immediately.

Students Win Over Faculty At Bridge

Playing Friday night at the home of Wallace B. Johnson, a senior bridge team defeated the Faculty in a progressive tournamen "for the first time in YEARS", as Mr. Johnson put it. The first successful student bridge team in years won by but 3000 points.

Highest score for the evening was made by Messrs. Ibbotson and Dealey, who made 8400 or thereabouts, and who also turned in the lowest score for any single round, exactly nothing. Runners-up for total score were Robert G. Miner and J. Frederick Taylor, who scored some 8200 points. "I guess we've met our Waterloo in these boys," quoth Mr. Johnson as he handed napkins and things about after the bridge. "And I think it's high time, too," replied Mr. Ibbotson, no pig and a good loser.

Members of the Faculty who played were: Messrs. Ibbotson, Carruth, Hauch, Marsh, Prettyman, Winters, Nesbitt, Coughlin, Dealey, Weber, Johnson, and Hosmer. The senior class representatives were: Messrs. Taylor, Miner, Scobie, Clay, Neff, Nichols, Martin, Gummerson, Waddell, Miller, Romig, and Murphy.

Fifty Blanket Subscriptions Are Still Necessary To Attain Goal

Falling almost 50 subscriptions short of the goal of 250, the blanket subscription drive is practically finished with a generally unsatisfactory result. About 125 subscriptions have been paid for either partially or in full, and a few over 75 have agreed to sign.

The nine sophomores competing for managerial positions on the various publications, in whose hands the drive has been placed, will now direct their attentions to the selling of single subscriptions to the publication for which each is competing, although blanket subscriptions will still be accepted in preference to single ones.

The goal of 250 subscriptions was set by Pi Delta Epsilon as one at which enough financial support would be received to guarantee the maximum quality of the publication, and the comparatively small returns may necessitate a lowering of the standard, especially of the "1935 Hamiltonian". At any event, the sophomores will continue to solicit the composite subscriptions, and it is hoped that a closer approximation of the goal may be reached.

HILL BAND MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE

Smartly Trained Group Plays At Buffalo Game Saturday

Under the leadership of John D. Dale, the Hamilton College Band officially began the fourth year of its existance last Saturday at the football game with Buffalo. With a membership of over thirty men, its tradition as the musical leader of the college support in athletics is again being well carried on.

John Dale, member of the class of 1935, was elected last spring to continue the work of Dick Redmond, founder of the organization, as the leader of the band. With a nucleus of two four year men, and four three year men, the prospects are very good for a successful season.

Regarded at first as merely the temporary creation of an unusual leader, the Hamilton College Band has gradually been winning its place as an official college organization. Some degree of official financial support is now aiding its development, and the members of two year's standing are awarded keys as the reward for their cooperation.

Martin Barnes and Fred Taylor have been members of the band since its founding in September, 1930. Those men who have been with the band for three years are: Becker, Courtney, Glendenning, and Morrow.

The other members of the band are: Allen, Arthur, Basten, Bowe, Brown, Conley, J. H. Dale, T. J. Dale, Davies, Gregg, Hegner, Halstead, James, Minor, Monacelli, Phelps, Read, Root, Smith, Sabine, VanAlstine, White, Wilkes.

Hosmer Assumes Duty As Press Board Head

Expanding its mailing list to over 50 daily and Sunday newspapers in the east, and including in its operations regular correspondence for the Associated Press and the International News Service, the Hamilton College Press Board has begun the college year in a swirl of activity. Succeeding Professor F. Winfield Smith as director of the Press Board, is Howard C. Hosmer, '33, former editor of Life. Assisting him are Ralph Haas, '35, and Rudyard Eldridge, '36.

Further evidences of the Press Board's increased activity and efficiency were seen at the football game with Buffalo Saturday, when a staff of reporters and messenger boys made good use of the newly constructed portable press box which gives an excellent view of Steuben field. In subseqeunt home football games, the Press Board's efficiency will be further increased since Western Union telegraph operators will install and operate sending and receiving instruments, thus facilitating the relaying of football accounts to various newspapers in the state which make use of the Press Board service during football games on the Hill. Scores of leading football games elsewhere will be relayed to the press box and announced for the benefit of Hamilton football audiences.

The Press Board weekly mails football and soccer advances to newspapers on its list, and furnishes personal news items to all home newspapers concerned with the activities of Hamilton undergraduates.

Harry A. Garfield, Williams College President, Resigns

Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College and son of the martyred president, James A. Garfield, tendered his resignation to the board of trustees on October 7.

Famous for his work as fuel administrator during the world war and for his institute of politics, Dr. Garfield, who will be 70 on October 11, resigned exactly 25 years after he was inducted into office.

His statement to the board of trustees said:

"It is stated that at the time of his resignation in 1872 Mark Hopkins when asked why he resigned, replied, 'I wish to resign that it may not be asked why I do not resign.'

"After a prolonged and careful consideration I have reached the conclusion that I should retire at the end of the present academic year. It is unnecessary to give expression to the reason and sentiments that move me. They are implicit in the reply made by Dr. Hopkins, which would be my reply.

"June 30th next is named for the date of my retirement for ample time thus will be given for the selection of my successor. Therefore,I place in your hands at this time my resignation as president of Williams College to take effect June 30th, 1934."

The trustees, taken by surprise, nevertheless took immediate action and accepted the request of the president. His service to the college was praised in the resignation passed by the board.

HILL BOWS TO CORNELL TEAM IN SOCCER, 5-2

Hill Men Show Fight in Late Rally, But Lose

WILLIAMS IS NEXT

Buff and Blue to Play Strong Aggregation Away from Home on Saturday

Overwhelmed by early period aggressiveness on the part of a veteran Cornell soccer team, the Buff and Blue rallied in the last half, but bowed, 5-2, in the season opener Saturday. Lack of cooperative experience hampered the home team, as concentrated Red and White drives kept the ball in Hamilton territory throughout the first half, with the defense cracking for four goals.

With several substitutions after the half, Coach Gelas' charges went into the game a rejuvenated outfit, and played the visitors evenly, each team scoring one point. Seven sophomores played an important part in the Hamilton lineup, while Lindley and Osterhout, members of last year's team accounted for Buff and Blue scores. Defensive work by Latham, Ferry, and deAzevedo was outstanding. Serenatti, Mulford, Verslius, and Bermekillo tallied for Cornell.

Shortly after the first whistle at 3:00, a determined Red and White drive netted a goal, but before the end of the period, Lindley, Buff and Blue left inside countered with a perfect shot, keeping the ball consistently in Hamilton territory, Cornell scored three more points in the second quarter. deAzevedo, whose defensive work featured the game, was making many saves with long boots, while Dennison, at goal, turned in a fine job. The Hamilton forward line wasn't given much of an opportunity to advance the ball because of the air-tight Cornell defense.

At the very beginning of the second half great improvement was noted in the Hamilton lineup, and the game tightened up generally. Play alternated from one end of the field to the other, neither team seeming to have a scoring punch.

Chester S. Lord, '73, Newspaperman and Gentleman, Mourned by Many Friends

By James A. Rockwell, '35

In the days when all newspaper offices were noted for their dirtiness, mussiness, loud-mouthed and vulgar speaking reporters, there was one man who would have none of this. He worked on a paper noted for its bizarre and gaudy headlines, screaming out its gospel. He worked for a paper which ranked among the yellowest of the yellow journals, yet he himself was the whitest of men. He worked for a man who personally ordered this yellow journalism, yet employer and employee were the most intimate of friends. This employee was Chester S. Lord.

Chester S. Lord spent nearly all his days working on newspapers —two newspapers, to be exact. He entered Hamilton with the class of 1873, but left after his sophomore year to work for the Oswego Advertiser, on which he was Associate Editor. From this paper he went to New York City, there to get a job on the staff of the New York Sun. He spent the remaining years in which he was in newspaper work on the staff of the New York Sun. From 1880 until 1913, when he ceased to be a newspaperman, he was Managing Editor of that paper.

He early became interested in the field of education, for he served twice as Regent of the University of the State of New York and he was also Chancellor of the Board of Regents of the State of New York.

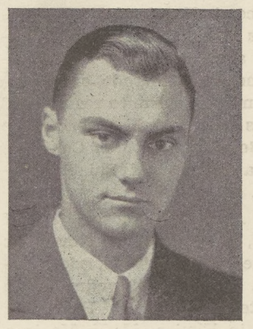
Hamilton College three times honored this illustrious son with honorary degrees. In 1894 he was given an honorary degree of Master of Arts and again in 1925 it honored him with an LL.D. In 1895 he was granted his A.B., nunc pro tunc. St. Lawrence also gave him an honorary degree for his excellent newspaper work. An LL.D. was bestowed upon him by this university in 1898.

As is the case of most men who have done their particular job well and with their best efforts, Mr. Lord was mourned by many, many people in all walks and stations of life. Newspapermen who had worked with him, whom he had trained, and who had constantly competed with him were only a few of these mourners. One of his greatest tributes was that which The Nation paid him. It stated that his paper was eagerly awaited by the other newspapermen in New York City to see in what place and where he had put the various news items. Many papers were an attempted model of the New York Sun, and despite the fact that men trained by Chester Lord were always welcome on any newspaper staff in New York, the New York Sun was never quite equalled.

It may seem strange to attribute all these qualities to a man who worked in one of those desolute, grimy offices, which were usually devoid of all manners and whose editors "considered cursing and rowdyism a necessary port of their trade." One man even apologized for calling a managing editor of that time a gentleman, but Mr. Lordwas an exception. He was very kind and genial to all on the staff.

To quote one of his friends, "Chester S. Lord was calm, dispassionate, without the slightest impulses, as wise as a serpent, as gentle as a dove and in all his

Captains Harriers



Robert G. Schwarz, '34

Hill Runners Will Meet St. Lawrance Here on Saturday

Fresh from an easy win over Colgate last Saturday, Captain Rushmas and his team mates from St. Lawrence will give the Hamilton harriers no easy time of it in the first meet of the season here October 14, at 3:00 o'clock. Although recognizing the strength of the Larries, Captain Bob Schwarz concedes nothing, and is confident that Hamilton will make a fine showing.

Schwarz, Jones, Moore, Grillo, and Thomas will start for the Buff and Blue, and although no records are considered to be in danger, general training and consistency are figured to put the home team at the long end of the final count.

Dr. and Mrs. Ferry Receive Freshmen

President and Mrs. Frederick C. Ferry held their annual reception for the freshman class on Wednesday evening. The purpose of this reception, as in the past, is to give the first year men a better opportunity to meet their fellow classmates more intimately than heretofore. As the members of the faculty were also present, the freshmen met them in a less formal manner than that of the classroom.

As has been the custom, there was no entertainment, such as is offered at the reception for the Senior Class. The freshmen were introduced to Dr. and Mrs. Ferry by Wallace B. Johnson, Secretary of Admissions. Delicious refreshments were served after the reception. Mrs. Nelson C. Dale and Mrs. Edgar B. Graves poured.

W. H. STORM ADDRESSES HILL ETHICS CLASSES

Dr. W. Harold Storm, lecturer on sociology and religion, is visiting the Hill today and tomorrow, for the purpose of addressing the several classes in Ethics. A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Storm has spent several years in Arabia as a missionary and physician, where he has become an authority on Arabian culture and religion. In his lectures on the Hill today and tomorrow, he discusses and compares the Christian and Mohammedan beliefs. He is at present affiliated with the Student Volunteer Movement, an organization which arranges to send its representatives about to colleges desiring lectures on special subjects. Dr. Moore, Professor of Ethics and Christian Evidences, secured Dr. Storm to address his class for these days and has cordially invited any members of the undergraduate body, who so desire, to visit his classes during Dr. Storm's stay.

President at Haverford

President F. C. Ferry was the official Hamilton representative at the celebration of the centenary of the founding of Haverford College, which was held on October 6, 7, 8.

Harding and McKenzie Score Touchdowns, Edwards Snares Safety

A determined Buff and Blue team, its ranks depleted by injuries, rode easily over the Buffalo Bisons, 15 to 0, in the opening game of the 1933 football season on Steuben field Saturday. In stampeding the Bisons, the Continentals displayed a powerful drive that should point to one of the most successful Hill gridiron campaigns in recent years.

In nowise disheartened by the absence from the lineup of Andy Scobie, mainspring of the backfield, Bob MacLaren and George Dotzauer, sophomore backs, the Hill team maintained a steady drive that kept the ball deep within Buffalo territory throughout most of the game.

A well coordinated offense came as a surprise, since only one lineman, Dunc Edwards, right end, occupied the same position he held last year. Scobie's injury which forced him earlier in the week from practice necessitated a complete shifting of the forward wall in order to permit the return of Bill Jones to his old position at halfback from his planned post at guard.

The first Buff and Blue drive began seriously when Fritz Crego, quarterback, completed a ten-yard pass to McKenzie. In rapid succession, Bill Jones and Crego ran the ball to Buffalo's ten-yard mark. An attempted pass failed, however, with the ball crossing the goal line and the Bisons regaining the oval on their own 20-yard mark.

A more successful attack was launched later in the same period. Gaining the ball near mid-field, the Hill team, playing straight football, advanced steadily toward the Bison goal. McKenzie, Jones, Harding, and Crego took turns in hitting the Blue and White line or skirting the ends until the ball was placed a yard away from the final marker. Harding plunged through for the goal. McKenzie made good the try for the extra point just as the quarter was about to end.

Bill Jones donned his running shoes as the second half opened and made repeated gains through the Buffalo line. Harding also did some effective line plunging in the "big push" and Crego made a pass good to Edwards which placed the ball within striking distance of the Buffalo goal. But the visitors suddenly turned into men of iron and the ball went into their possession.

Edwards, coming in fast, nailed Williams, fullback in his tracks for a safety and two more points on the score board.

Zuk, husky regular fullback on the Bison team, who was injured on the previous Saturday when playing against Niagara, went into service in the final period. His attempts to buck the Buff and Blue front line failed. In a final desperate attempt to score, the Bisons again took to the air. This last minute policy of scattered passes gave the Hill lads their final score when McKenzie grabbed a toss from Zuk on the ten-yard line and trotted across the goal. The try for the extra point failed.

When the Hill squad meets Rochester in the Flower City on Saturday for their second engagement of the season, Bob MacLaren and Andy Scobie may be back again in the lineup. The Buff and Blue players were given a brief respite yesterday but will have heavy practice sessions later in the week.

ROSE BAMPTON TO APPEAR ON NOV. 3

Metropolitan Opera Contralto to Give First Musical Art Concert

The first concert of the Musical Art Society will take place on November 3, when Miss Rose Bampton, a contralto of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will sing in the chapel. Miss Bampton, a native of Buffalo, is at the age of twenty-three, a well known artist in the musical world. And furthermore we are assured that she will arouse as great enthusiasm in undergraduate circles as did Miss Louise Bernhardt last year.

She made her debut in New York in 1932 at the Metropolitan, and was among the outstanding of the younger artists. She is a protege of Leopold Stokowski, the director of the Philadelphia Symphony. It was under his direction that she sang the solo parts in that orchestra's presentation of Schoenberg's "Gurre-Lieder" last year. Miss Bampton also took part in the Wagnerian operas which were the leading radio attraction during the past winter; she won particular acclaim for her performance as Kundry in Parsifal.

Students Address Joint Club Meeting

At the joint meeting of the Political Science and German Clubs, held last night at Sigma Phi Place, two undergraduates told of their recent experiences in Nazi Germany. Both speakers expressed their favorable opinion of the Hitlerite movement, and warned their audience to use extreme caution in accepting hostile propaganda which does not present an accurate picture of the true facts.

Howard B. White, '34, President of the Political Science Club, presided over the meeting and introduced Richard Ihlder, '35, as the first speaker. Ihlder, who spent this last summer in Germany, told of his contacts with some of the National-Socialist leaders such as Goebbels and Goering.

The speaker pointed out the enormous benefit to Germany as a nation of the Nazi regime but did not attempt to apologize for the persecution of the Jews. He illustrated his talk with some of his personal experiences with the leaders of the movement. Also, as an interesting sidelight, he described a student duel which he was fortunate enough to witness.

The second speaker of the evening was David Fraser, '34, who likewise spent part of the past summer in Germany. His address, based upon his contacts with German students, Nazi journalists, and Jewish refugees, expressed his warm approval of the National-Socialist movement in Germany. Although he did not approve in spirit with discrimination against the German Jews, Fraser emphasized the erroneous character of the hostile propaganda which has flooded the American newspapers.

UNDER THE BLUE EAGLE

"Our form of government may remain notwithstanding legislation or decision, but as long ago observed, it is with governments as with religions, the form may survive the substance of the faith."

These words are from an opinion of Chief Justice Fuller in a famous case thirty years ago. The prophecy is fulfilled. While only a few scattered voices cry out in protest, the bulwark of liberty which was once the Constitution of the United States is slowly crumbling away.

The framers of our Constitution, conscious of hard-won freedom and of an ideal to be preserved, recognized that a central government could not exist indefinitely unless its powers were strictly limited. They built well,—but now it is apparent that through the perversion of its delegated powers, ours has become a government of unlimited authority. And the very future of the Union trembles in the balance unless this usurpation can be curbed; for the days of a nation are numbered, wherein a central power seeks to govern tyrannically communities, which are varied in economic interests and widely scattered.

Blinded by immediate economic advantage, we have passed under the yoke of bureaucracy. But let there be no mistake,—when once out of the doldrums of the depression, there will come a rebirth of constitutional morality. The challenge will not be left unanswered in the hearts of a people such as ours, a people who love their individual liberties too well to see them bartered for temporary material benefit.

While the parades march by under the blue eagle, we quote the words of one patriot who has dared to raise his voice above the blare of the bandwagon:

"Government by commission is government by caprice, and government by caprice is tyranny!"

Alumni Notes

By Professor Edward Fitch

Many distinquished honors have been bestowed upon various alumni of Hamilton College during the past few months. These honors are not purely local, but international in scope.

Newcomb Cleveland, '86, of Denver has been recently serving under an appointment of the Attorney General of Colorado, on a special committee of five to recommend changes in the code covering the State Board of Health of Colorado. He is a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

Rev. Albert B. Judson, '87, of Milford, N. Y., will on November 1, retire from active service covering a period of 43 years in the Presbyterian ministry. His home will be in Elmira, N. Y. He is a member of Emerson Literary Society.

Dr. H. L. Weber, '98, has been made a member of the Legion of Honor by the French government in recognition of his services in Africa. Dr. Weber is a missionary-physician in charge of the Central Hospital at Elat, French Cameroun. He and Fred Hope are credited with drawing plans and making provisions for the hospital which was occupied in 1925 though incomplete at that time. With a separate ward for Europeans, it accomodates 249 patients and is always well filled. In a recent year 16,500 patients attended clinics there while 2,681 were received and given treatment in the hospital. Dr. Weber is a member of Emerson Literary Society.

Mr. Charles L. Warfield, who attended Hamilton College from 1929 to 1931, graduated from the University of Hawaii at Honolulu this June with a degree of bachelor of arts. He is now doing graduate work at Honolulu preparatory to entering the consular service. While at Hamilton Warfield was a member of the soccer team, golf team, Charlatans, and inter-fraternity council. He is a member of Sigma Phi fraternity.

The following Hamilton Alumni are represented by sons in the class of 1937: John D. Clark, '06, Chester A. Sittig, '06, John G. Clark, '07, Wilson Road, '07, John C. Sabine, '09, John C. Baldwin, '10, Russell L. Engs, '10, Ralph Renwick, '10, and Percy M. Allen, '11.

Well, the Dean is hitting his stride about now. We wondered when he was going to get under way, especially after having all those new bulletin boards built in the library lobby. The newest rule may sound bad but it has its silver lining. By virtue of recent legislation the Chapel markers hand in their lists every morning instead of once a week. The nice part of this is that now, after having slept through your twentieth chapel, you will be awakened by Chubby himself at your bedside. He'll fire you on the spot and you can get out fast, whereas, under the old regime, a man might have gone to some classes he didn't have to.

So far, this department has taken a far-off attitude on the subject of the new burly in Ute. However, during one of the dull moments when Hamilton was shuffling off through Buffalo, we noticed that the show was advertised on the program. Therefore, perhaps we'd better give it a boost. About all we know about it, though, is an unconfirmed rumor that both Swampy and Wally have been seen right down in the baldheaded row.

CHESTER S. LORD, '73, MOURNED BY FRIENDS

years of authority he was never known to utter an unkind word to any man on the paper, no matter how humble his position. Mr. Lord had a gift for recognizing other men's talents and the ability to bring out the best in them. He taught them a love of their work and its importance. He nurtured in them a great pride in the daily which they helped to make, and although they created a newspaper which beyond question was the best written, the most brilliantly edited and the livest newssheet in its palmy days.". For these achievements Mr. Lord was made a member of many clubs and honorary organizations. While he was in college he was a member of Sigma Phi fraternity.

Royal W. France, '05, professor of economics in Rollins College, Florida, reports that his brother, Hon. Joseph I. France '95, will seek the Republican nomination for the United States Senate from Maryland in 1934. He served in the Senate from 1916 to 1922, and last year received the primary endorsement in a number of states for the presidential nomination. Clement J. France, '98, who is with the Chamber of Commerce of Providence, has been advising the Governor of Rhode Island on N. R. A. matters. These three members of the France family are affiliated with Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Fisk of Buffalo recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Clarissa Breckenridge Fisk, to John F. Folley, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. John F. Folley of Syracuse. Folley graduated from Hamilton with the Class of 1930, where he was a member of Theta Delta Chi. He is now in the School of Dentistry, University of Buffalo.

Dr. F. M. Miller, Jr., '17, of Utica, N. Y., was present in Chicago last week to accept in person his election as Fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He was a member of Delta Upsilon.

DON'T MISS THIS

DINNER AT EIGHT, the play by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, was produced by Sam H. Harris at the Music Box, New York, a year ago. A new edition of the book has just been published with illustrations reproduced by courtesy of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corp. from the beautiful feature picture and showing splendid stills of the famous movie stars. The next time you are in town, drop in at Lambert Grant, Inc., and ask to see this book which will undoubtedly be one of the leaders on the fall list.

Drives were frustrated in front of the goals, and there were a great number of unsuccessful long shots.

Cornell finally worked the ball in for the final Red and White score, but Osterhout, Hamilton right wing, almost unassisted, made another score for Hamilton directly after, placing the score at 5-2. During the last quarter Hamilton had a slight edge on Cornell as far as aggressiveness on defense was concerned, but seemed unable to convert attempts into scores.

Although weakened considerably by the return of but four regulars to the lineup this year, Williams defeated a fairly strong St. Stephens aggregation Saturday, and will provide plenty of fast opposition to the Buff and Blue at Williamstown when the team travels there at the end of the week. Encouraged considerably with the showing against the experienced Cornell team, Coach Gelas has found his best working combination, and no doubt will send the Buff and Blue into the game with the high hopes of avenging the 1932 defeat at the hands of the Purple.

STUDENT SPEAKERS SCORE PROPAGANDA

lic for 'atrocity' stories, and the tremendous influence of the big Jewish advertisers are responsible in large part for most of this propaganda, he declared.

In expressing his agreement with the movement, Fraser pointed out that the German nation, is more highly united now than at any other time in its history. He also described the friendly liking the German people have for Americans even though this feeling is not reciprocated. He brought his speech to a close with a plea for American tolerance of the Nazi movement.

Following the two addresses, a spirited discussion took place in which Professors Ibbotson, Nile, and King, made contributions as well as several undergraduates. Refreshments were served by the hosts.

Super to Speak Friday

Professor Bonham has invited all undergraduates who are interested to vagabond his course in Latin-American history which meets at 8:30 Friday morning. At this time Professor R. C. Super will speak to the class about his summer spent in traveling in Texas and Mexico.

what makes a cigarette taste better

WHAT makes anything taste better? It's what is in it that makes a thing taste better.

CHESTERFIELDS taste better because we buy ripe tobaccos. These ripe tobaccos are aged two and a half years—thirty months. During this time the tobaccos improve—just like wine improves by ageing.

CHESTERFIELDS taste better because they have the right kind of home-grown tobaccos and Turkish Tobaccos "welded together."

We hope this answers your question.

WE HAVE

an exclusive signed contract

During the past ten years, the majority of young men's styles that have later become nationally popular, had their start at Yale, Princeton, or Harvard Universities. The camel's hair coat, the trench coat, tab-collared shirts, etc. etc....all were taken up throughout the country after they had been worn for a few months by the men at the leading universities.

We have found that there is one custom tailor and haberdasher who is counted as "top" by the men who are themselves "top" in athletic and social affairs.

We have made an exclusive contract through which we are able to show you exact duplicates of everything this leading custom tailor and haberdasher is showing ....exactly when he shows it.

There are many young men in Hamilton who want the things worn by the leaders at these and other leading universities. We have created a department to meet the demands of these young men. Please come in and see this merchandise.

Convincing Testimony That WEBSTER'S COLLEGIATE Is the Best Abridged Dictionary

"I can hardly believe I shall ever apply to it any test it will not creditably sustain. It is an amazing product of accurate and usable scholarship," said H. L. Seaver, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Presidents and Department Heads of leading Universities agree with this opinion. Webster's Collegiate is best because it is based on the 'Supreme Authority'—Webster's New International Dictionary. 106,000 entries including hundreds of new words, with definitions, spellings, and correct use; a dictionary of Biography; a Gazetteer; rules of punctuation; use of capitals, abbreviations, etc.; a dictionary of foreign words and phrases. Many other features of practical value. 1,268 pages. 1,700 illustrations.

Always THE FINEST TOBACCOS

Always THE FINEST WORKMANSHIP

These days, smokers pay more attention to their cigarettes. Naturally they're talking about the way Luckies are made. Always so round, so firm and fully packed. Brimful of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—without loose ends. That's why Luckies draw easily, burn evenly and are so mild—so smooth.
